Professional Development Opportunities
in Educational Technology and Education
(Formerly Educational Technology and Education Conferences)
For May 13, 2024 to December 2024, Edition #51

The 51th edition contains selected professional development opportunities that primarily focus on the use of technology in educational settings and on teaching, learning, and educational administration. Only listings until December 2024 are most complete as dates, locations, or Internet addresses (URLs) were not available for a number of events held after that date.

A significant challenge during the assembly of this list is incomplete or conflicting information on websites and the lack of a link between conference websites from one year to the next.

An explanation for the content and format of the list can be found at http://newsletter.alt.ac.uk/2011/08/why-distribute-documents-in-ms-word-or-openoffice-for-an-international-audience/. A Word or an OpenOffice format is used to enable people with limited or high-cost Internet access to find a professional development opportunity that is congruent with their interests or obtain abstracts or event proceedings. Consider using the "Find" tool under Microsoft Word's "Edit" tab or similar tab in OpenOffice to locate the name of a particular event, association, city, or country. If you enter the country "Australia" or place, such as "Vancouver" in the "Find" tool, all conferences that occur in Australia or Vancouver will be highlighted. Or, enter the word "research" or "assessment". (Note that key words such as "research" or "assessment" may not be present in the conference title, yet these topics could be discussed during a particular conference.) Then, "cut and paste" a list of suitable events for your colleagues.

Please note that events, dates, titles, and locations may change and some events may be cancelled. Thus, CHECK the specific event website not only for basic information, but to assure yourself that the event is legitimate. Some events are not quality-focused. I genuinely try to compile a list of events that will give you value for your time and money. But, I may not always succeed. Take the time to conduct your own due diligence for any events you want to attend or submit a paper to. You could consider using the checklists at Think Check Attend, https://thinkcheckattend.org/ which "aims to guide and assist researchers and scholars to judge the legitimacy and academic credentials of conferences in order to help them decide whether to or not attend the same". Also, you may want to refer to "How to Make the Most of an Academic Conference" by Thomas J. Tobin.

All Web addresses were verified at the time of publication. No liability is assumed for any errors that may have been introduced inadvertently during the assembly of this FREE list of events. Kindly retain the contact information when you re-distribute the list or mount it on the web as that is how I receive notices of future events. crw

June 6-27, 2024 Respectfully and Confidently Engage in Difficult Conversations: A Dialogue Workshop Series for Advancement Professionals. "As an advancement professional, you engage with alumni, volunteers, donors, and colleagues from different backgrounds, lived experiences, and perspectives. At times, you may receive unsolicited or angry opinions about institutional decisions, or inquiries about national and global news or events as they unfold. These comments or questions can sometimes be polarizing and catch you off guard. For some of us, our natural tendency in these situations is to shut down, disengage, and become defensive. However, a critical requirement of the relationship cultivation process with internal and external constituents is staying present in these challenging moments and allowing the conversation to continue despite political, religious, or social differences. It is also just as critical to know when to exit these conversations safely and professionally, depending on the intensity of
