Who is included/excluded?

Why are some learners silent?

Low self-confidence

Personal issues

Need time to think

Introvert

Not familiar with rules of group

Not fluent in course language

Feel intimidated or ignored by peers

Not polite to question
teacher or peers

Only interested in the certificate

Distracted or bored

Technical issues

We're all silent learners, sometimes

From lurking to learning

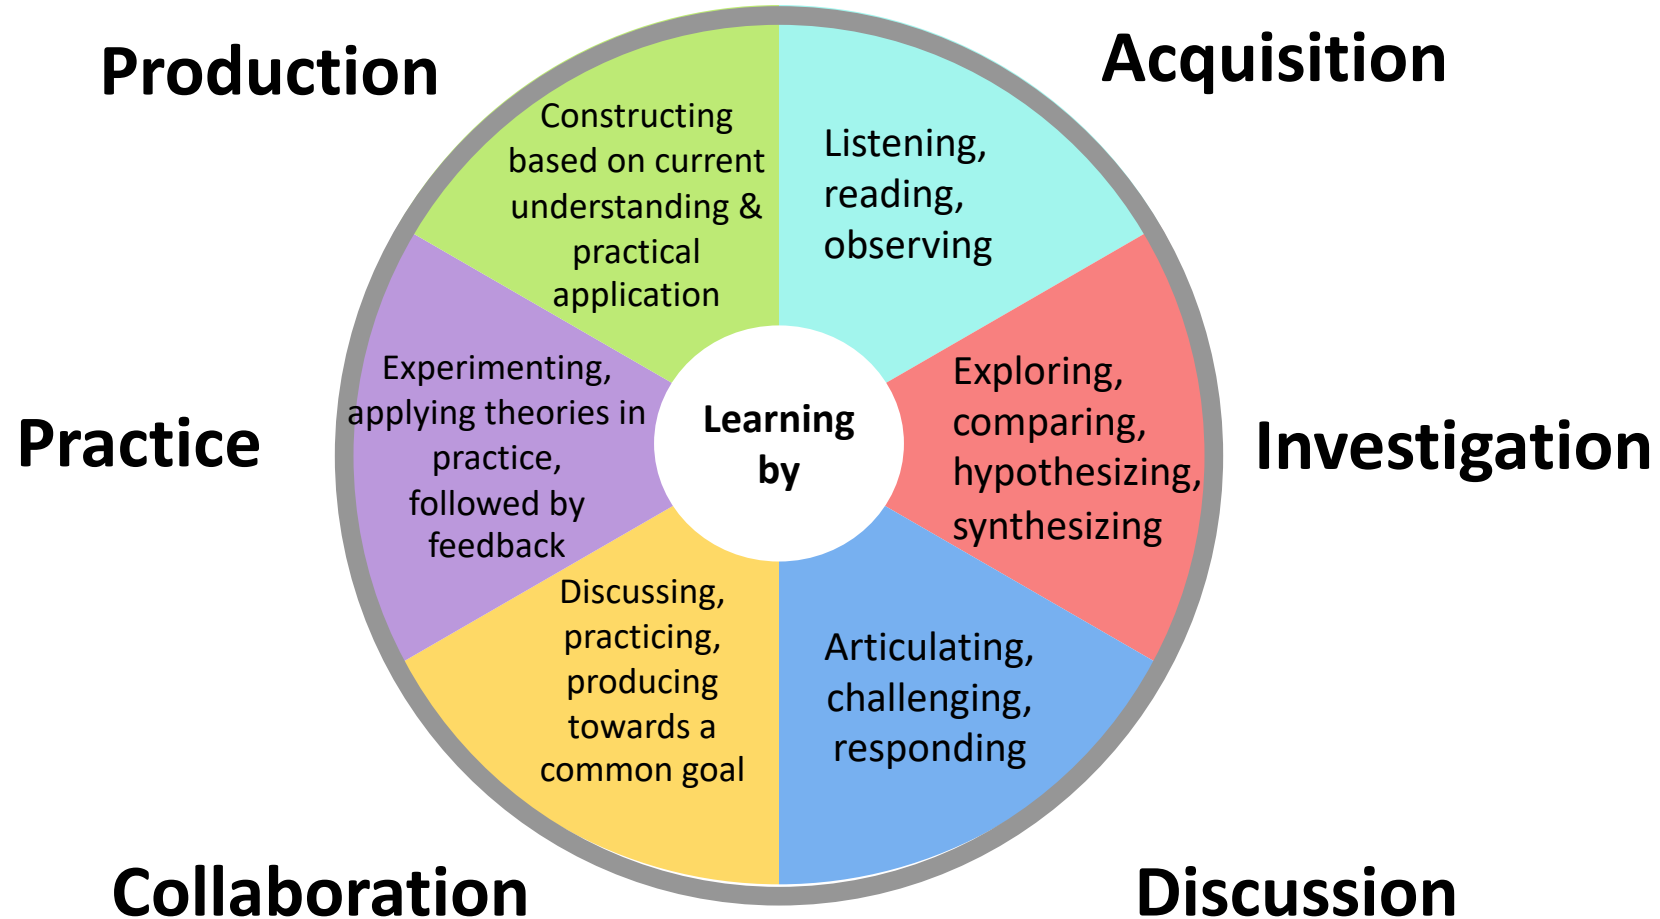

Blended learning?

- In class, at home, with peers ...
- On-site/online.
- Synchronous/asynchronous.
- Teacher-lead/student collaboration.
- Group work/self-study.
- Instruction/inquiry & discovery.
- Theory/practice & problem-solving.

Low bandwidth teaching

- Live chat – tlk.io.
- Messaging – Deltachat, Signal.
- Asynchronous interaction:
 - recorded audio input (podcast)
 - video/audio/text discussion (eg Flipgrid)
 - collaborative tools
- Downloadable material for offline access.

How can we increase student engagement online?

Online meetings

- Connecting
- Camera on or off?
- Anonymity?
- Show interest, give credit, recognise contributions
- Avoid activities that exclude (high bandwidth)
- Alternative channels

Social contacts

- Pre-meeting – test audio and video, small talk.
- Ice-breaking – pairs/small groups.
- Post-meeting discussion.
- Drop-in sessions – video, audio or chat.

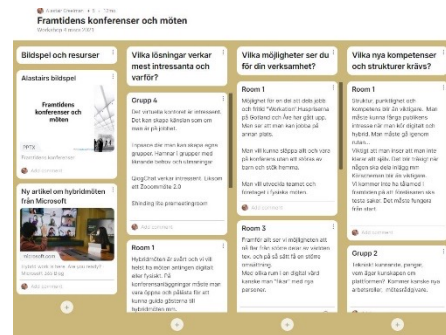

Stretch the meeting

Recorded input

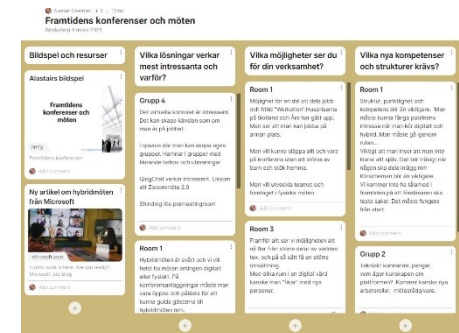

Discussion

Meeting

Discussion continues

Get them on board

- Check in. How are you?
- Brainstorming in chat – chatfall
- Whiteboard
- Polls

Recorded video

- Short and concise
- Pause for thought, invite discussion
- Embed questions in video (EdPuzzle)
- Video feedback
- Weekly video summaries (teacher or students responsible)

Instead of recording

- Assign students to take notes in shared document
- Others can comment
- Focus on collaboration, reflection, summary

Group work

- Active learning
- Vital career/life skill
- From consumer to producer
- Higher level of course engagement
- Increase the quality of the event for all participants

Fear of group work

- Time-consuming.
- Messy, awkward, noisy.
- Insecurity, lack of trust.
- Risk for conflict.
- Dominant members.
- Groupthink.

Breakout groups

- Practice first with a trivial task.
- Build in time for socialising.
- Opt-out choice.
- Discuss rules for group work.
- Clear task – explain why.
- Assign roles.
- Meaningful follow-up.

Time for thought

- Individual reflection (turn off camera and microphone)
- Take notes
- Pair/group reflection
- Class discussion

Silent meetings

- Shared document to read (short article, scenario, case study)
- Everyone silently comments and asks questions on shared document
- Teacher reads comments and identifies key themes for oral discussion
- Class discussion on key issues

Accessibility

- Clear language, structure and instructions
- Different media
- Captioning, text-to-speech, speech-to-text
- How to make your PowerPoint presentations more accessible.
(Holly Tuke)
- More asynchronous, low bandwidth communication
- Download option for offline access

Silent learners

- Giving everyone a voice – but different modes of expression
- More silence in class – time for reflection
- Different activities: reflection, analysis, observation, discussion, production

Resources and ideas

Community building activities Equity Unbound & OneHE
